

MAD LIBS

LITTLE BLUE PENGUINS

FILL IN THE BLANKS WITH YOUR OWN FUNNY WORDS! THEN, READ THE ACTUAL PARAGRAPH ON THE BACK TO LEARN ABOUT LITTLE BLUE PENGUINS.

Little Blue Penguins are a type of _____ that loves to _____ !
noun verb

You can most likely find them _____ or _____ in their verb -ing verb -ing water-filled exhibit. Penguins can make very _____ noises, adjective

oftentimes to _____ with each other. Our aquarists feed the penguins verb

lots of _____, up to _____ pound(s) every day. The penguins eat noun, animal number so much _____ that they can poop up to _____ times a day! Little Blue noun, same animal number

Penguins are the world's _____ species of penguin, growing to about the size of adjective

a _____. They enjoy _____ into the ground and making nests noun, food verb -ing out of _____ and _____ that can be found around their noun noun habitat. Little Blue Penguins come all the way from _____ and place

Australia and now have a permanent home at Birch Aquarium.

MAD LIBS

LITTLE BLUE PENGUINS

Little Blue Penguins are a type of bird that loves to swim! You can most likely find them diving or gliding around their water-filled exhibit. Penguins can make very loud noises, oftentimes to communicate with each other. Our aquarists feed the penguins lots of fish, up to 1/2 pound(s) every day. The penguins eat so much fish that they can poop up to 145 times a day! Little Blue Penguins are the world's smallest species of penguin, growing to about the size of a California burrito. They enjoy burrowing into the ground and making nests out of grasses and leaves that can be found around their habitat. Little Blue Penguins come all the way from New Zealand and Australia and now have a permanent home at Birch Aquarium.

UC San Diego
SCRIPPS INSTITUTION OF OCEANOGRAPHY